Fire Chief Zak Reports A Successful Year

The Coleman Fire Brigade have once again chalked up an enviable record of achievement for themselves over the past year, as an annual report presented by Fire Chief Zak indicates a full year of activity.

Eleven fire calls were answered by the brigade of which five were in the Improvement District around town and the other six were town fires. The fires in the Improvement District comprised two chimney fires with no damage, one small shed fire no damage, one chimney fire causing damage to the extent of $325.00 while the other a house fire was estimated at a total of $1,010.00 making a total of $1,325.00 damage in the Improvement District.

The town fires consisted of two chimney fires, one grass fire, one business house fire with damage of $1,771.00, a house fire started by a lightning strike causing $450.00 while another fire in the chimney of the Hall's hall causing damage of $105.00 boosted the town fires to a total of $2,322.95, making the entire total fire loss for the Improvement District and town $3,657.95.

Fire Chief Zak also reported that the brigade maintains a strength of fourteen men besides himself and the brigades had one practice per week. During last year 51 practices were held with an average attendance of 95 per cent.

The brigade also sponsored the annual Hose Coupling Competitions in Coleman on July 1st which was a very successful event. The Annual Fire Prevention Week was again conducted and during this event a poster and essay contest was held for the grade ones to grade eight students of the Coleman school with $12.00 being given out in prizes. During fire prevention week the brigade visited the town's entire business section, the local hospital, the gas plant and both schools in Coleman where fire drills were conducted by the firemen.

The report also showed that the Annual Banquet and Dance had been held with both affairs being successes. The firemen and their families enjoyed both a summer time picnic and a Christmas party when the firemen's children were all given presents and treats. The recent Muscular Dystrophy campaign spearheaded by the brigade was also a complete success with more being collected this year than ever before.

Fire Chief Zak and members of the brigade have expressed a sincere thanks to all who have helped and assisted them in their many ventures during the past year which is one of the best the brigade has enjoyed.

Joseph Krywolt, Coleman Miner, Dies at Age 77

A Coleman oldtimer, Joseph Krywolt, died at his home Sunday, Jan. 20, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Krywolt was born March 6, 1885 in Wilkowice, Poland. He immigrated to the United States in the fall of 1909, settling at Custerhead, Wyoming. A year later he moved to Bankhead, Alta., where he worked in the mines until 1917.

He was one of the original trail-makers between Banff and Lake Louise.

On his arrival in Coleman he worked at McLaren's logging sawmill at the base of Crow Mountain. Later he resumed mining at the McGillivray mines.

He retired in 1951.

He was predeceased by his wife in 1951.

Mr. Krywolt was a trustee in the Coleman Elk's Lodge and a member in the Old Age Pensioners Association, Coleman local of the UMWU and the past secretary-treasurer in the Polish society, SNPJ.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. A. (Mary) Morris, Mrs. D. (Violet) Filafilo, Mrs. R. (Betty) Szynarek; two sons, Edward and Alois, all of Coleman, one brother, Janek in Hungary and a sister, Rozalia, in Poland, 14 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Prayers were said Tuesday at 7 p.m., in Hall's Funeral Chapel in Blairmore and requiem high mass was conducted by Rev. Denis Fleming, Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. in the Holy Ghost Catholic Church. Interment followed in the family plot of the Catholic Cemetery.

Hall's Funeral Service were in charge.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Don Filafilo, Nick Olynk, Alois Szynarek, Wayne Krywolt, Joe Krywolt and Bill Krywolt.

All were grandsons of the deceased.

Coleman Old-timer To Reside at Coast For Winter Months

Mr. Eldred Ash of Vancouver, B.C., visited here last week. He was accompanied on his return by his mother, Mrs. Ed. Ash, who will reside in Vancouver for the winter months with her son Roy and wife.

Mrs. Ash and her husband (the late Ed. Ash) resided in Frank at the time of the Frank Slide Disaster in 1903 and moved to Coleman shortly after. Friends wish her good health, happiness and contentment in her new surroundings.

Proceeds have now been sent into the Muscular Dystrophy headquarters and Mr. Zak and all the firemen have extended thanks to all who supported the campaign.

O. Celli Returned As President of Fish & Game Assn.

The Coleman Fish and Game Association held its regular meeting January 18th, when five members were presented with their awards for having caught the biggest fish of the year. Millar Fleming was awarded a fly rod for the biggest steel head; Paul Filowich received a rod for the biggest rainbow; Harry Parkinson was presented with a camping lantern for the biggest trout, and John Yeliga also received a tackle box for his large trout entry.

It was decided at the meeting that the trophies for the big game heads shot in 1962 would be awarded in the immediate future. Entries must be turned in to Celis Building Supplies on or before February 9th for judging and the entries must be accompanied by a card with name and address of hunter.

The competition is open for Elk, Sheep, Goat, Moose, Mule Deer and White Tailed Deer.

A discussion was held on the possibility of having lakes and streams in this area restocked with fish and a committee was elected to work in conjunction with the game biologist this season.

President Celli reported that the club had enjoyed its largest membership this year as the club had a membership of 271 sportmen. An objective of 300 has been set for the following season. Harry Scaba was called upon and for having sold the most memberships was awarded a wallet for his fine effort.

A lengthy discussion was then held on the Coleman Fish and Game Association sponsoring a Junior Forest Warden Program for Coleman boys twelve years of age and over. Feeling that this was a very worthy project the Club will sponsor this program and the secretary was instructed to write the proper authorities with a view to getting information on such a movement. When particulars are obtained they are to be turned over to chairman Bob Salant who will get the ball rolling on this matter.

Five members of the Coleman Club Club, Al, Celis, Jim Kerr, Archie Fraser and Dante Filafilo will attend the annual Fish and Game Convention scheduled to be held in Lethbridge on January 31st, February 1st and 2nd.

In appreciation of the fine work that Harry Freeman of Passugg is doing towards destroying cougar predators in this area, the club approved sending Mr. Freeman a 100 pound bag of dog food for his two "Blue Tick Hounds" Buckley and Smoky.

The meeting concluded after the twenty five members present enjoyed a lunch.

Mrs. E. Jones Passes January 17

Mrs. Evelyn Mae Weston Jones, Coleman oldtimer, died in the Crow's Nest Pass Municipal Hospital on Thursday morning, Jan. 17, following a very brief illness.

Mrs. Jones, 69 years of age was born in West Hartlepool, England on July 31, 1894, coming to Canada in 1921 and settling in Coleman where she lived until the time of her death.

She was a member of the Pythian Sisters, the Coleman Branch of the Old Age Pensioners Association and of the Anglican Guild. She was predeceased by her husband and Arthur Jones in Coleman five years ago.

Surviving are two sons Alfred, serving with the RCAF at Fort St. George and Ronald, serving with the Airforce at Nanton Airbase, a step son Harold Jones of Coleman, two grand children Norman and Eldon, one nephew, Jeff Knowles of Coleman and two nieces, Violet and Pearl in Vancouver.

The Anglican Church in Coleman was well filled when the many friends and relatives of the late Eva Jones gathered to hear the services preached by the Reverend Peter Miller. Following the service the cortège proceeded to the Union Cemetery where interment was made in the family plot following a graveside service. Pallbearers were three sons, Harold of Coleman, Alfred of Prince George, B.C. and Ronald of Edmonton and three grandsons, Donald of Coleman and Norman and Eldon of Edmonton.

At the conclusion of the meeting coffee and lunch was served.

C. W. L. Hold Monthly Meeting

The Coleman Catholic Women's League held its monthly meeting on January 7th at the home of Mrs. Sofie Lapacek of West Coleman.

During the meeting plans were made for the rummage sale scheduled to be held in the Catholic hall on February 20th from 2 to 5 p.m.

Following the short business meeting an evening of whist was enjoyed with the prize being won by Mrs. Beduz, who was also the lucky winner of the door prize.

A lunch was served to conclude the meeting.

Dust and Water Problems in West Coleman

On the evening of January 24, the Council met with Mr. Harquail to discuss these matters, at which time it was pointed out by Mr. Harquail that he would do what was possible to reduce the dust problem in the following manner:

(a) That the dryer, when accepted by the Company, will put out a minimum amount of dust.

(b) He plans on clearing the old sheds by the MacGillivray Tipple and covering the slurry with gravel from the hill, and it is proposed, that this slurry in the future, will be piped to the old mine workings.

Mr. Harquail points out that this is an industrial area and was such before the formation of the Town and states that it is impossible to eliminate the dust completely, although, he believes, it should be kept to a minimum.

The matter of the water problem, he feels, is not one caused by the Company, as the levels of the two mines cannot rise above the river level as the water is now escaping from the mine into the river east of Town which is at a much lower level than West Coleman. However, Mr. Harquail will have his engineers look into this matter and inform the Council of their findings.

New N. E. S. Manager Installed

T. M. "Terry" Robertson took over his new duties as manager of the Blairmore office of the National Employment Service on Monday, January 21st to replace F. J. Lotz, who is now retired.

Mr. Robertson was installed by Regional Administrative Services Officer for the Unemployment Insurance Commission on the prairies, Gordon Wayling.

Mr. Robertson was welcomed to the Pass by Mayor William Jellep of Blairmore, Mayor Ernest Goulding of Bellevue and Mayor John Ramsay of Coleman.

Mr. Robertson joined the U.I.C. in Winnipeg, Man., following his release from the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1948. During his service with the air force as Flying Officer, he served with a heavy bomber division in England and was awarded the DFM for a special mission.

He has served in both the employment and insurance branches of the National Employment Office in Winnipeg and then was appointed as officer-in-charge of the St. Boniface sub-office.

Mr. Robertson was a member of the Home and School Association and also of the Legion, and acted on the program committee of both groups. He is married and has one daughter Penny, 14 years of age, who is interested in horseback riding.

Mr. Robertson is also interested in hockey and sport. His family will arrive here later this year.

Mr. Kovach stated that Premier Manning and Cabinet Ministers will appear on the telecasts and the broadcasts will deal with the Social Credit Movement. What Social Credit Means, The New Program and What Social Credit Would Do With a National Scale, if elected to power.

United Church Women Elect Officers

St. Paul's United Church Women's Group held the election of officers at their last regular meeting when the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mary MacQuarie; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Irene Coover; Rec. Sec., Mrs. Helen Liddell; Corr. Sec., Mrs. D. Plante; Treas., Mrs. J. Owen; Devotional Convenor, Mrs. M. Girbiny; Kitchen Committee, Mrs. E. Amell and Mrs. M. Girbiny; Stewardship and Recruiting, Mrs. Florence Kerr; Publicity and Supply, Mrs. M. Dunford; Citizenship, Mrs. H. deLeeuw; Friendship, Mrs. G. Poulton and Literature, Mrs. J. Owen.

The chief accomplishments of the group in 1962 were the conversion of the furnace in the Manse to a gas furnace and the purchase of a Gas Hot Water Tank for the club room. The sum of $300 was also donated to the Board of Stewards for general purposes and $250 to the Basement Fund. To assist with the work of the Church in Canada and Overseas the sum of $225 was donated.

The Group appreciates all those who have supported their teas, bazaars and rummage sales. Plans were made for a Rummage Sale to be held on March 2, in the completed basement room, tea and muffins to be served in the main clubroom.

The next regular meeting of the Group will be on Feb. 11 at 7:30 p.m. New members are always welcome.

IN ORDER TO PUBLISH
reports of meetings of various organizations, it would help if a press correspondent was appointed by each one to send in the news. It is impossible for a reporter to attend all the meetings, therefore co-operation would be appreciated, and at the same time publicity would be assured for the meetings.

CANADA CONTINUES to push back its northern frontier, and a flood of people move with the northward tide to resettle in new communities. Five new base metal mines in Northwestern Quebec alone have created jobs for 4,000—and resulted in new homes for the families of the men employed. Above, children in Matagami, Que., play near their trailer, where they live until a permanent home will be made available.—TNS

Business Population In Alberta Up 2.4 Per Cent

Today, Mr. J. P. Howell, manager of the Calgary office of Dun & Bradstreet of Canada Ltd., announced statement requests were mailed to 22,413 businesses in Alberta. He said figures obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for January, 1963 totalled 22,413 manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers in this area as compared with 21,871 in 1959.

According to Mr. Howell, each January business concerns from St. John's, Nfld., to Victoria, B.C., are asked by Dun & Bradstreet for copies of their financial statements. This year, requests are being sent to approximately 300,000 business concerns — to the corner grocery store worth a few thousand dollars as well as to businesses worth millions.

The Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book lists those manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit but it does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers and real estate brokers. Therefore, the figures for total businesses in Canada would be higher than the 300,000 quoted above.

During the past year, Mr. Howell added, 12,094 changes were made in the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book listings of Alberta businesses, including 3447 names added, 3528 names deleted and 5121 changes in the ratings of continuing businesses.

When the owner or officer of a business enterprise, or his accountant, fills in and mails his financial statement to Dun & Bradstreet, it becomes a part of the credit report on his business and a factor in determining the credit rating of his business. Mailing the statement, rather than waiting for the Dun & Bradstreet reporter's call means a concern's important suppliers will quickly have the latest facts on which to make credit and sales decisions. When the Dun & Bradstreet reporter receives a business man's financial statement in advance of his periodic call, he can make a more detailed analysis of the financial condition of the business and discuss its operation more intelligently.

Back of each listing of a business in the Reference Book is a Dun & Bradstreet credit report. The report includes the following: a history of the business (who owns it, who runs it, and how long it has been operating); a description of what the business does and how it does it; a financial section which usually includes the latest financial statement, and a record of how the business pays its bills.

While credit reports are primarily used by business men who want to evaluate the credit risk of a business before shipping or selling, insurance underwriters also use credit reports to review risks, rates and coverage for fire and other types of insurance.

To what extent is Canada deliberately creating a class of state-supported unemployed and unemployables?

Examine the case of a 19-year-old Vancouver girl, who has been, as she calls it, supporting herself for over two years. She lives in a housekeeping room. She is known as a good worker - when she chooses to work.

At present she is on unemployment insurance, for the third time in her brief career.

Three times she worked until eligible for unemployment insurance benefits. Then she began absenting herself from work on plea of sickness, one day out of three or two out of three, until discharged. She takes occasional jobs, but none last long while she still has benefits available.

About half her so-called self-supporting life has been supported at public expense.

She is by no means typical of the bulk of Canadians who through no fault of their own are unemployed and drawing benefits.

But she is typical of what appears to be a growing class of Canadians who regard public assistance as a right, not a privilege. With this experience in her formative years, where will she end? As a permanent welfare case?

It is not unemployment insurance alone which gives rise to examples like this. Canadians are building a massive welfare state. In the last year for which complete figures are available, 1958-1959, welfare and income maintenance expenditures by federal, provincial and municipal governments in British Columbia alone were $253 million.

This does not include theoretically self-paid unemployment insurance or public and private charities such as the Community Chests.

In undertakings of this magnitude some minor chiselling is unavoidable. But the case of the young woman we cite can be paralleled so often it is impossible not to wonder if chiselling is being made too easy altogether—if we are not encouraging it.

The monetary loss is serious enough. But it could be far less serious than the damage we are doing to those we encourage to chisel.

THE BIBLE TODAY

"If you can't find the answer in your law books, you will find it in that pocket edition of the Bible that is in your saddle bag," Mayor Gordon Stronach of London, Ont., stated recently referring to the early days of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The Mayor stated that his "alma mater" was the RCMP. Looking for the reason for the high regard held by people with respect to this force, with special reference to Canada's early history, Mayor Stronach indicated that justice was administered faithfully from the precepts of the Bible carried by the pioneers, then called, the Royal Canadian North West Mounted Police.

Speaking at the Mayor's Breakfast on the morning following the inauguration of the London City Council last month, His Worship Mayor Stronach stressed the need for Christian principles to be applied at every level of living, making special reference to those in public office.

The Mayor's Breakfast was sponsored by the London Group of International Christian Leadership. In Washington, D.C., the annual President's Prayer Breakfast is a project of I.C.L. This year the event is held on Thursday, February 7th.

A group of Senators and members of Parliament in Ottawa meet when the House is in session under the auspices of I.C.L.

Forestry Assn. School Poster Contests

The Prairie Provinces Forestry Association, representing the Provincial Forestry Association of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan is again conducting poster competitions in each province. Two separate contests will be held, a junior and a senior; the senior for students in grades 7, 8 and 9, and the junior for pupils attending grades 4, 5 and 6.

The poster should be designed to encourage good manners in the forest and to emphasize the need to always be careful with fire. Each year, in all our Provinces, 80 per cent or more, of forest fires are caused by people, too often carelessness.

The poster may combine a fire warning, with an appeal to practice good manners when working or playing in a forest area. It could point out how the other resources of nature depend on a green forest, such as our lakes, rivers, birds, wildlife and even ourselves. Some original figure or symbol could be most effective.

The poster should be designed for economical reproduction with not more than three colors used in the production of the poster. To win a prize the poster must be original and not a copy of a professional poster.

Posters should be on a suitable paper for art work of this type, with the size of the card not less than 12x18 inches and not more than 14x22 inches. Posters outside these limits will be disqualified. Pupils are requested to print their name, age, school, grade, and address on the lower right hand corner on the BACK of the poster. The Teacher should send only the four best posters from each of the two contest divisions. They should be received at the Association office not later than Wednesday, April 10, 1963.

The Association does not undertake to acknowledge the receipt of posters. The winners only being notified, but the results of the contest will be published. If possible, prizes will be presented by Directors or Officials of the Provincial Associations during Forest Conservation Week, which is observed in May. All posters become the property of the Association. The decision of the Judges is final.

Travel no longer for the monied

Breaking the dreariness of winter is a privilege no longer reserved for the wealthy and retired.

The travel bug is nipping at more and more willing victims each year. The victims now include those on modest salaries who elect to spend the summer on home ground and get a break from the monotony of ice and snow by going where it's always summer.

Time was when a month of preparation went into a trip abroad. A leave of absence from one's job was impossible to get to and from a chosen holiday spot in a two- or three-week yearly vacation.

Today, residents of B.C. have an international air link. The two-week vacation can begin in a matter of hours thousands of miles away from home: Five hours flying time to Mexico City; six hours Honolulu; nine hours to Bermuda; seven hours to Tampa Florida; eight hours to Phoenix; nine hours to Nassau; 14 hours to Port of Spain, Trinidad. It's little wonder that people in every age group and income bracket are becoming globe-trotters.

If you've checked your travel fund lately and find it ready to cover your very first holiday in the tour organizations he represents. Frequently he can save you money by protecting you against costly mistakes.

How's the weather?

Perhaps you have not yet decided where to go for this first big trip. Every place sounds enchanting. So consider the weather in far away spots and don't go tooling off in the paradise you've picked.

In January and February the average temperature in Mexico City is 54-57°; Honolulu, 71°; Bermuda, 63°; Jamaica, 77°; Trinidad, 78°; Nassau and the Bahamas, 72°; Miami, Florida, 68°.

The travel agent will advise you about travel documents. He'll tell you how to obtain a passport and a visa if necessary. He'll advise about inoculation and vaccination requirements and currency.

40 below to 70 above

But there's one thing he might not think to mention: A change of clothes from HERE to THERE. If you're dressed for 40 below zero when you take flight from your B.C. airport and you drop into your holiday spot at 70 degrees above, you'll feel like dying before you reach your hotel. So wear something light and toss your fur coat to a friend as you dash to the boarding ramp. If you are making connection en route you can leave your winter clothes in a locker at the point, picking them up on your return.

And speaking of clothes. Don't take along everything you own or you'll ruin the day. If your luggage is to include a travel iron and an electric razor, remember to take a current converter plug. Electric current is not standard in all countries.

If you wear glasses, don't fail to carry a spare pair. This advice goes for luggage keys too.

What to buy

No matter where you decide to go you'll want to shop. And in most resort spots the parade of shops is endless. In Mexico you'll find hand-made silver jewellery, hand-tooled leather, hand-blown glass and pottery, semi-precious stones and interesting textiles.

In Bermuda you'll see world-famous sweaters, tweeds and Bermuda dookin. Jamaica and Trinidad will feature Liberty silks, chino and woolens from England, French perfumes, Indian Cashmeres and native handicrafts.

Hand-blocked linens and marvellous cotton prints, carved woods and Oriental wares abound in Honolulu and you are bound to come back from here loaded with bits of shell and seed jewellery as gifts for your friends.

Yes, the two-week holiday can be a glamorous and exciting one, and it's nice to know that such a vacation is becoming easy for the average person to enjoy.

The Other

Side

Anyone who takes an interest in the affairs of their community, of their province, their country, or the world in general, has, over the years, turned to almost every kind of conceivable debate.

They've heard town meetings, radio forums, TV forums, and debates in general. They've listened to preachers, politicians, military men, union officials, professors and all sorts of experts argue the pros and cons of every conceivable question from feeding the baby to establishing world order.

And through it all, we've yet to listen to one in which one side convinced the other of his arguments.

It would give us, and you too we're sure, a real thrill, if after one of these wrangles, one of the speakers would stand up and say 'You my friend, have convinced me of the truth. I was wrong when I came here to debate. I didn't know that I was wrong, but you have showed me the error of my thinking, and I now agree with you about the question under discussion.'

Now - why shouldn't this happen? Is it that the speakers make up their minds from the start that they will not be made to see the other fellow's side . . . even if it is right?

This also applies equally to the audience. If six people listen to a debate and three are on each side, they will still take the same stand after the debate, unless the debaters put up some argument that touches their pocketbooks.

Viewed from this angle, it appears that these debates and discussions are a complete waste of time.

Of course, there have been people who have changed their political views, and those who have changed churches - but the average person who alters their set line of thought are usually those who had either fallen into disgrace and were booted out or else things were made so hot for them they had to leave.

Rarely, if ever, has an opponent convinced one of these backers by oratory or even logic.

WANTED . . .

A Slow Thaw

A leading coast paper carried the following interesting story concerning a new teen-age fad as follows:

"There is a popular teen-age fad that is sweeping the country and it involves ice cubes - not goldfish.

Two teen-agers see how long they can keep tossing an ice cube back and forth before there is nothing left to toss. The unofficial record is reported to be in the neighborhood of 14 minutes.

This does not include the big drip at the end.

There seems to be a lack of official rules as to the size of the ice cube or any rule that says a teen-age cube. Nor does there appear to be any rule that says a cube must not solicit the help of a chemistry teacher in compounding a "slow' em" ice cube.

And we have the very nagging thought that the grand champion will emerge from a walk-in refrigerator in a supermarket.

Knowing the ingenuity possessed by some of our high school students we are convinced that one of our crowd will get a bright idea and toss his way to the champion of champions."

Formula simplifies wall estimate

It doesn't take an engineer with his slide rule to figure out the number of standard bricks needed for constructing a wall.

There are 21 bricks per square foot in a wall 12 inches thick.

If a wall is 20 feet long and six feet high the surface area is 120 square feet. Multiplied by 21 the wall will require 2520 bricks.

For a wall eight inches thick, 1690 bricks would be needed and so on, thinner or thicker.
